Jones Attempts to Explain.

Jones, chairman of the national Democratic committee, in answer to a query by a Boston lawyer as to the "real meaning intended to be conveyed by the reference to the Supreme Court as it may hereafter be constituted" in the Chicago platform has been received. Senator Jones says: "Permit me to suggest that the paragraph in which these words occur asserts that but for the decision of the Supreme Court in the income tax case there would have been no deficiency. This question having been before the court as constituted at the time and the decision having been rendered against the income tax act by a single vote it was not to be supposed that the court 'as at present constituted' would ever reverse its decision upon this question. But if a vacancy should occur and a judge should go on the bench who coincides in his views, say, with Justice Harlan, then this action could be had. This was the conting ncy contemplated by the framers of the platform."

FCRCING THE TRUST ISSUE.

Hugh O'Connor Is Loosening Mr. Zenor's Scalp, Preparatory to Removal.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SALEM, Ind., Oct. 19 .- Hugh T. O'Connor and James D. Connor, of Wabash, who are making a canvass of Washington county, held meetings at Peking and South Boston, Wednesday. Mr. O'Connor, in discussing the trusts, said: "The great monopolies or trusts which menace the people have the means to surround themselves with the very best legal talent. They pay their counsel salaries all the way from Two Clubs Organized at Terre Haute-$5,000 to $25,000 a year, and even more. Thus fertified, it becomes a serious propthe dissolution of a trust, because it entails aimost endless litigation and expense, the trust carrying its case from one court to hending these facts, but determined to overcome the growing evil, the Republican Congress, true to its promise, introduced the anti-trust amendment to the Constitution, which defined, first, that the United States meant and included all States, Territories and possessions; second, that Congress should have the power to create any corporation for the purpose of commercial that, unless he brings about a recall of the between the States, including railroad, tele-Jesuits to Prussia, its members will not graph, telephone, transportation, express and sleeping-car companies; third, that all corporations should be under the control of Congress, including the power to impose a franchise tax, terminate their existence, ferfeit their franchises, control and make disposition of their property; fourth, that the bacteriologist, who is employed by the the amendment by appropriate legislation, German government to investigate tropical and fifth, that in the absence of legislation by Congress, all power conferred by the New Guinea, by way of Hong-Kong. He is third section upon Congress might be exercised by the several States.

"This amendment would have passed, and the trusts be already under national control, had not the Democratic congressmen, with the exception of five, voted against it. My distinguished opponent, Mr. Zenor, was amendment. Not so very long ago Mr. Bryan himself recommended an amendment to the Constitution to combat the evils of trusts, but it seems when amendment came up it was realized by the no less than in Egypt and in German East Democratic leaders that a general elecwere scarce, so word was passed around to oppose the amendment which would control the trusts, and the evil was thus preserved so that it might afford the Democrats an issue in this campaign. "This is a serious matter, and one upon which Mr. Zenor and other Democratic congressmen in Indiana may find themselves put out of office despite the large majorities they held two years ago. The honest-minded voters of Dubois, and Perry and Washington, and, in fact, all over this district, will not stand any scheming of the kind. Members of Congress are paid Washington, not to impede necessary legisplosives deposited where they would have Mr. Bryan and his party are frothing at the mouth in their denunciation of trusts. Why did they not help to dispose of the evil last spring when they were given the opportunity? For myself and the other candidates for member of Congress from this State I will say that we are determined to enact the anti-trust legislation, and the trend of feeling in all parts of the State is that we shall be given the opportunity."

Mount, Durbin and Others at a Great Jay County Rally.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PORTLAND, Ind., Oct. 19 .- All Jay county and parts of all the surrounding counties were well represented at the great Republican rally at Pennville to-day, where Governor Mount, Colonel Durbin, Representative Cromer and J. J. M. La Follette expounded the true Republican doctrine to thousands of residents of the districts mentioned. Every business house in town and ed, and nearly every vehicle that brought the crowds had at least one American flag flying, while many of them were completely draped in the national colors.

Governor Mount spoke extemporaneously dealing with national and state issues. His hearers being in the main representatives of the agricultural element, he paid considerable attention to the things which were most interesting to them and spoke of the war waged by Democracy against the McKinley tariff law about eight years ago. The farmers were then appealed to, with the promise of greater markets and better prices if the law should be done away with. These promises failed to be to say that ever since President McKinley's election farm corps and farm animals and | terly way for which he is noted. their market values have been on the increase. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 19.-The first legal action by the city against the doubling of rates for natural gas by the two companies, was taken, this afternoon, junction proceedings were filed against the Heat, Light and Power Company, asking for a temporary restraining order, pending the suit for a permanent injunction to protect the people from the new rates. The belief is current in some quarters that the city officials are not sincere in the action, for the reason that the customary bond for damages was not filed with the complaint, though an immediate restraining order is asked for. No action can be taken against the Muncie Natural Gas Company, the major fuel supplier, until after the first of next month, when its new rates will be in force.
